

PRAVDA?

The Official(?) Newsletter of the KGB

Editor: Margaret Meyerhofer
(mmeyerho@andrew.cmu.edu)

Price: Two Fedoras
Volume 15, Issue 3 — 12 September, 2011

Activity Fair! by mmeyerho

We went to the activity fair!
We gave out hats!
We took names!
We got stats!

By School:

- CIT: 53
- H&SS&Dietrich: 28
- SCS: 25
- MCS: 18
- CFA: 5
- Business: 5
- SHS: 5
- BXA: 4

By Year:

- Froshlings: 110
- Sophomores: 13
- Juniors: 6
- Seniors: 0
- Masters: 1

Superhero Names:

- Freddy Fiasco
- princess starcatcher
- Mr. Shenanigans
- That guy over there
- hedgeclipperman
- Madame Speckles
- Cog in the Machine
- Teh Boss
- don't worry about it
- SkyKnight
- Derpface Mcgee
- Crimson Parakeet
- The Red Shadow
- You may call me Tim...?
- Flying Squeegee
- La What What

Best AndrewIds

- bhauser (pronounce it "Bowser")
- malehorn
- ssrock
- eforney (x2)

Callie! by scunning

Pit Masters Decry CMU BBQ

by scunning

The American Barbecue Champions have come out against Carnegie Mellon's interpretation of barbecue at informal campus events. They claim that cheap hamburgers and hot dogs, served with canned soda and potato chips, does not qualify as real 'Cue.

ABC representative Jim Robertson flew in this September from Houston, Texas to assess the situation. I presumed the excellence of Carnegie Mellon, like at Rice University, would indicate excellent taste in slow-roasted meat, he said. Unfortunately, it seems these young men and ladies have no exposure to cooking outside of a backyard grill. Seriously, ketchup and mustard with 'cue? Naw, man. Naw.

The ABC recommends students immediately stop referring to such cookouts as BBQ's and seek proper barbecue tasting experiences. That huge patch of dead grass would make a great pit, if only they left it alone, said Robertson. He hopes that the fertilizer laid down attracts urban pigs, who apparently make the best ribs.