Georgia (grcoons)

President:

Hello!! Slightly serious moment, I seriously love the CMU KGB. This group of people really helped learn to be a college student. This group not only keeps me entertained for most of the week, but has been there for me when I'm in the trenches of CMU and has given most of my friendships. In my time here, I hope to help the KGB continue to grow and prosper by offering my leadership. As I do now, as president I would attend all the KGB, ReadMe, and Booth activities I possibly can. I would continue to shape and grow this organization to something fun that we can all be proud of. Finally, I know the structure of GBM pretty well! I've never been sent to the corner of shame, that's how good I am at GBM.

First Vice President:

Hmm. This position looks familiar. Don't trust me to lead our glorious organization? Reelect me to the position I hold now! In this position, I have dedicated my efforts to assisting the other Exec members in any way I can. I'm often first to volunteer to help, whether it be attending a meeting or carrying things to and from the office. Ever seen the KGB on Instagram or our events in ReadMe? I make those! Ever found us on Tartanconnect or GCal? I do that too! Though I didn't get the chance to hit recruitment efforts hard this year, I hope to next year! I hope to introduce people to KGB in hopes that it will provide them with the same sense of community I felt. If you want to see more people in KGB or more Instagram posts, reelect me for 1VP!

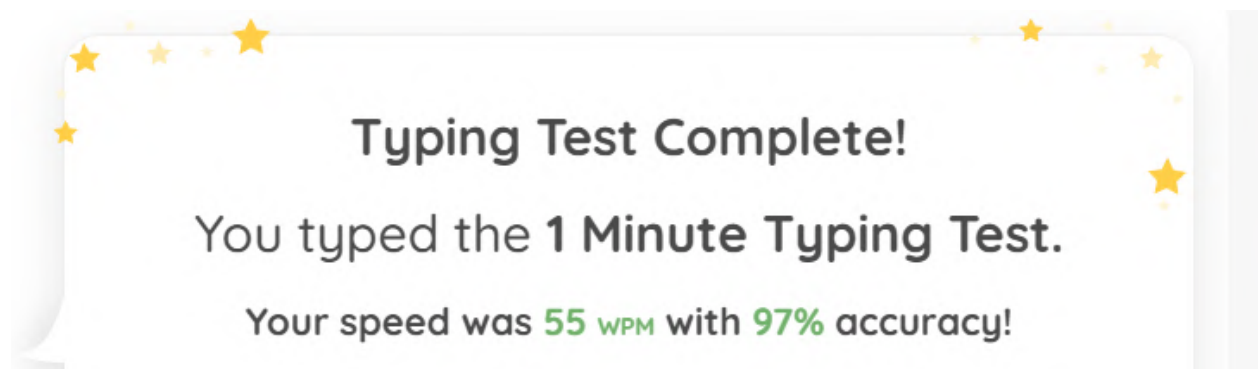

Second Vice President:

As a certified anxious person, I have plenty of experience organizing events. As a freshman Exec member, I have paid close attention to how KGB plans and executes events in the hopes I can be effective in doing the same. As a snack enjoyer, I promise the sippy sips num nums will always be on time and delicious!

Corresponding Secretary:

One could say I've written a lot of emails in my time. Most of them seem to work. I guarantee Pravda? would continue to exist and there would be Miso Soup pictures in it. I also know how 25Live works 🍑

Recording Secretary:

Treasurer:

I count real good. I also have an umbrella (the one Maddie uses most of the time)! Tbh, I don't really know how the KGB's finances work, but I could learn! I don't have a history of embezzling money.

Sargent at Arms:

Per my last count, I have two arms. Both are pretty capable of carrying things, like cakes.

Nathan Gaynor

Hello readers. It is me. Nathan. For this formal process, I believe we must seek formal and professional candidates. The platforms above are far too silly to be considered for such serious executive positions as that on the board of the Carnegie Mellon University KGB. These are very serious positions and must be manned by very serious individuals. I consider myself a serious individual.

As the Second Vice President of the Carnegie Mellon University KGB, I shall be the greatest provider of nutrition and sustenance during events held by the organization. I shall select not only food containing nutritional value (calories), but also food that provides sensory delight for the consumer. I shall remain in my current dwelling during the next academic year, which is conveniently located near the Giant Eagle grocer, in the Squirrel Hill region of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, United States, Earth. This locale makes it trivially similar for me to purchase goods.

HEY GUYS, I WANNA BE CORSEC AGAIN. IT'S BEEN FUN SO YEAH VOTE FOR ME HERE.

As the Treasurer of the Carnegie Mellon University KGB, I shall ensure that our organizational finances are kept under great control and care. Financial cares are no laughing matter, and require utmost care and a serious individual to lead.

Lastly, as the Sargent At Arms of the Carnegie Mellon University KGB, I shall do great, serious tasks. I shall do them well. I will ensure great things are done. By me. I will do them.
