Nukes Fly at Toronto, Kremlin Claims Responsibility

Shock around the world today as the Canadian government has announced its capitulation in the face of “overwhelming odds.” This comes after the surprise nuking of every single high-population city in the country. The perpetrators of this unexpected attack, previously unknown, have revealed themselves to be none other than the executive committee of the KGB.

When questioned about the motivation for such an attack, Kevin, the tyrannical leader of the KGB, had this to say: “We had an abundance of Canadian pennies, just you know, lying around. We didn’t really want to spend the effort of exchanging them, and melting them down is illegal. Therefore, we decided to take the reasonable and legal course of nuking the entirety of Canada so the government collapses. Now we can melt down our pennies without Canadian oversight.”

While the rest of the world will mourn the loss of our Canadian friends, the KGB is supposedly having a victory party this Saturday to celebrate their victory.

Do you like robots? Are you interested in building a robot? Take the StuCo, "98-012: Fun with Robots", next semester! Due to, circumstances?, I (Kevin, kevinson, evin, even) ended up as an instructor for the class, and so I am shilling for the class now. Also, this is not a joke. Legitimately, if you're actually interested in building a small lil robot in a low-stress low-stakes mini-mini-class, you should take FwR. It'll be cool, trust me! (and if you complete the course, you get to keep the robot! (note: there's a $10 lab fee at the start, but like, if that's a significant financial obstacle, dm me)). thanks - kevinson

Well no offense but it seems to me that they like girls more than guys, by a LOT. I am not exactly sure what this means, but I am looking into it.
