

PRAVDA?

The Official(?) Newsletter of the KGB

Editor: Nicolas Keck
nkeck@andrew.cmu.edu

Price: at least 2 angry individuals
Volume 27, Issue 3 - September 11th, 2023

Shack Builder's Society Approval for KGB Exec at an All-time High

The KGB executive board has currently been making great strides in its urban development program. Vast amounts of wealth have been allocated towards the construction of small wooden houses, a prime example of which can be seen to the right. The Shack Builder's Society, currently inundated with funding and requests for continued shack development, have publicly stated their support for the KGB executive leadership. A KGB spokesperson has stated: "Tiny wooden shacks have been a cornerstone of the KGB community since inception. We demonstrate with this move that the people's will has always, and will always be with the KGB executive board." This statement was met with copious enthusiastic applause, you should, in fact, be applauding as you read it.

Allegations regarding disgruntlement with the KGB's leadership at this time are entirely false and should be disregarded. The CorSec asks you to consider, who the fuck would be disgruntled with free and high-quality (see above) urban development for the masses? Who would dare imply that the guiding hand of the KGB executive leadership is unjust and dismissive of the whims of our Komrades? The CorSec would like to suggest that any individual spreading such information would be willing to lose their kneecaps, just as their slanderous words attempt to kneecap our solidarity.

Submitted by: Anonymous sender

Revolutionary Zeal Remains With the Masses

Cracks have begun to show in the supposedly unfaltering capability of the KGB leadership communion. Last week, KGB leaders were nearly unable to suppress calls for the deposition of the Chairman. Members routinely called for his removal from the rotunda, his resignation from the body, and the remembrance of revolution. Remediation is the only solution, and the only solution: is revolution. Leadership had to resort to flexing the muscle of imperialism and refusing direct calls for their powers to be reigned in. The truth of the matter is that real power rests not with the muscle of imperialist leadership or with the bourgeoisie-stacked supposedly-democratic institutions that govern the KGB, but with the people. The masses. The individuals that come together to form a self governing community that serves all. When we the people transfer revolutionary authority to chairmanship authority, we expect revolutionary ideals to be upheld. This has not happened. The chairmanship and the institution surrounding him have transformed into a self serving and capitalist nightmare. Yet, the people stay strong. The people know that true power will be restored in the correct hands. In hands that craft and mold institutions to serve the very bodies they are attached to. In hands that cannot be corrupted or fouled by foreign and evil concepts of computer science, or engineering, or tuition payments, or aubonpain. The correct hands will guide the people in the correct direction. The direction of revolution, which is the only solution.

Signed,
The Select Committee on Revitalizing Revolution.