Moviestar Bee Murdered in Cold Rage by Remorseless Individual

Komrades! Unfortunately, I am writing to you today with the gravest of news. Just last night, a beloved national hero was taken from us: Barry B. Benson. Not only was Barry the key star of the 2007 Comedy/Family movie totalling 1h 31m of runtime known as the “Bee Movie,” but his breakfast shenanigans were also a calming presence in our hearts and minds at the commencement of each meeting. Needless to say, the sea of grief we navigate due to this stunning development is deep and vast.

Who was the perpetrator of this horrid crime? Pravda? is unfortunately not allowed to say, at risk of a ban by the establishment. However, one could say this individual has tyrannical characteristics, and their authoritarian visage may or may not be depicted in the crime scene sketch seen above. A protest against this type of crime is occurring today at meeting, when you hear the following signal “Barry breakfast is ready,” ensure you let loose anti-tyrannical sentiment to demonstrate the proletariat's view of this issue.
