KGB Leadership Shakeup - Sergeant at Arms Replaces 2VP in Mysterious Circumstances

News has just been faxed from the Kremlin regarding a shakeup in the leadership of the KGB executive body. It has been announced that former 2VP Howie shall be “stepping down” from his position, and Daniel shall be rising from the position of S@A to 2VP. Daniel was asked for comment on this shakeup in leadership and cryptically replied with the image seen below. Both Daniel and Benner, the new S@A, also released statements associated with their new positions.

Howie Daniel - 2VP

A splash, the demented roar of a monstrous being, shrill screaming, the crunch and cracking of bone, silence. These are the sounds which definitely could not be heard in the steam tunnels on Friday October 27th, 2023 at 1:09 AM, the suspected time of Howie's disappearance. Instead, Daniel would like to remind you how much of a team player he is by accepting the role of 2VP in Howie's absence. He would also like to remind you that he's "providing" the snacks now, and you better not be rude by refusing to eat some...

Benner - S@A

Daniel's hand-picked successor, Benner has a steely glint in their eyes that I find somewhat unnerving. They claim that this is what a Freshman with life in their eyes looks like, but I swear I saw something more sinister. Also why was Daniel so insistent Benner replace him? Also why does Benner keep mentioning the committee to assassinate the president? That's just a joke committee, right? ...
